

This station (K-Love) is particularly important to me as I have a one hour commute to work. K-Love helps me prepare for my day going to work, with God as my focus, and appreciate the "challenges" of the day on my way home.

I believe K-Love truly has a positive impact on our community. Were K-Love to be replaced by an LPFM, I wonder what the format would be? More Rock? Rap? How will this bring people closer to their God in a time when our nation desperately needs faith?

Serving the public is definitely a service of K-Love. I've listened to a number of stories (recently) while driving to work. How many other stations have the qualified staff to talk to a person contemplating suicide? While I enjoy other genres of music, I doubt seriously that any of those stations would have the people to deal with such a situation.